BEISEKER NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. Ken Wright, Joey and Margaret are holidaying at Sylvan Lake for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Pius Schmaltz were visitors at home for the week-end. Pius claims that since the 40-hour work week with CNR he has not much to do, as all freight and express is handled by truck.

Doug Brown was a visitor to Leduc to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Brown are visiting with Pius and Rose Schmaltz for a few days. Doug expects to be moving to their new home by the first of the month.

On their return from North Dakota, Bill Hagel and Tony Velker report having had a wonderful trip and a real good time meeting old friends, but, the time too short to visit them all.

It took three cars to bring the Altar Boys home from their fishing trip to Pine Lake. They had a wonderful time. A little chilly, but they managed to keep warm. They had quite a number of fish — large and small. Val Schmaltz, Matt Schmaltz and Fred Miedinger made the trip up to get the boys. Mr. and Mrs. Bunyan were also along with them.

Mrs. Peter Schmaltz is quite busy baby-sitting these days. There were six babies in the house at one time, and a few adults, together with Bert Day dropping in for a loaf of home-made bread.

Harry Simmonds is wondering who the new barber is in town.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Little spent Sunday in Beiseker.

Margaret, Helen and Florence

Hagel were home for the week-end. Also Emmanuel Hagel, Dea Brosteaux and George Schmaltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Lavoie and Mrs. Brosteaux motored to Calgary on Saturday, where Mrs. Brosteaux played the organ for the wedding of Royal Lavoie to Miss Kenlock. They were married at St. Ann's Church. Miss Margaret and Helen Hagel were also there, singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hagel and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hagel motored to High River on Sunday.

Peter Tennes was home for the week-end.

Val Schmaltz and Lou Brosteaux were out trying some new guns recently. The way Lou was hitting the hawks and Vally the owls, the ducks don't need to worry. The dogs will have an easy time this fall. Better get practiced up, Val and Lou.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schmaltz, Mrs. Andrew Schmaltz and Pauline motored to Vulcan on Sunday to visit Nick and family.

We are very pleased to hear that Mrs. Frank Lyczewski is getting along nicely after her recent operation.

Mrs. Alf Hagel and Mrs. C. E. Schmaltz have returned home with their new baby girls.

Mr. Ken Wright spent the week-end at Sylvan with Mrs. Wright and children.

Mrs. Ronnie Selzler is home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Schmaltz, for a few weeks' rest.

Anyone wishing to have news items in the Times, would they please phone Mrs. L. Brosteaux at 1807.

LEGION AUXILIARY HOLDS SECOND BIRTHDAY DINNER

ROCKYFORD — The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Rockyford Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., held their Second Annual Birthday Dinner on Tuesday, Aug. 21, 1951, in the Rockyford Community Hall.

The dinner table was centered with a birthday cake, holding two candles representing their two years of organization. Mrs. A. J. Geeraert acted as official hostess and welcomed the guests present, which included members from the branches in Standard, Strathmore and Gleichen. Seated at the head table were Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Waldon of Strathmore; Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Collins of Standard; Mrs. Bogstie and Mrs. Holt of Gleichen; Mrs. A. J. Geeraert, Mrs. D. I. Dahm, Mrs. C. L. Geeraert, Mrs. H. Ropp, Mrs. Heimbecker, officers of the Rockyford branch. One representative from each of the visiting branches and the officers of the local branches received corsages in honor of the occasion.

After dinner, Mrs. Collins, Standard, Mrs. Waldon, Strathmore, Mrs. Holt, Gleichen, and Mrs. Geeraert, Rockyford, gave short talks about their own particular branches.

Mr. Frank Ewing, Rockyford, showed very interesting slides which he took during his recent trip through the United States. This was followed by a sing song, with Mr. Kilcup at the piano and Mrs. G. Cammaert leading the singing.

The second successful birthday party was closed and will long be remembered by the guests present.

WAYNE ARCHER of Moose Jaw, Sask., was one of a party of happy sea cadets who spent two weeks training at Camp Princess Alice on Mannicog Island in Ontario's Georgian Bay. Prairie provinces are well represented at the camp, which teaches seamanship, signals and water safety.

Warning to Drinkers

How often have you seen drinkers leave the beer parlor and step into the car outside the door and drive away? How many innocent victims have you read about in the past few years—victims of drinking drivers?

For a long time the sage words of advice have been "If you drink, don't drive; if you drive, don't drink." The wise drinker does not drive his car or truck immediately after drinking. He either drinks when he is through driving or has a non-drinker to drive his party and himself after drinking.

Until now, only a drunken person could be indicted for exceeding the law by driving after drinking. But what constitutes drunkenness? Some can "hold their liquor" better than others. Medical men say that even one drink can so lower a driver's efficiency and good judgment as to constitute a hazard on the road.

In future, any driver involved in a court case will be subjected to the question: Were you or were you not drinking prior to the accident? That is, immediate enough to the time involved to affect his driving. If so—$50.00 fine first offense; two weeks in jail for the second; three months in jail for the third offense.

"If you drink, don't drive".

Mr. Ivanchuk And His Fish

In the modern Utopia, which is Socialist Saskatchewan, lives John Ivanchuk, a northern lake fisherman with 46 nets, and a boat with motor. Like other fishermen in Canada Mr. Ivanchuk is subject to rules and regulations designed to protect his industry. Unlike other fishermen in other parts of Canada, John is beset with numerous marketing regulations imposed by the C.C.F. Saskatchewan Government.

For violating one of these government rules, Mr. Ivanchuk's fishing gear, together with 1600 pounds of fish, were seized by a Government agent, and without any effort to give John a trial, held for 46 days. We trust the fish were kept under refrigeration for the 46 days or they might have made a stink as offensive as this case generally is to Canadians and our concept of freedom and justice.

For five weeks Mr. Ivanchuk's means of livelihood was taken away from him. As the Calgary Albertan says: "No charges were ever laid. There was no search warrant. The Government scoffs at the idea of compensation."

This sort of thing happens in Russia and Communist dominated countries. Surprised that it happens in Canada?

The Region Needs Religion

The news from Hongkong, China, is that large groups of Protestant missionaries have applied to the authorities in Red China for permission to leave the country due to the fact that American property has been seized, bank deposits frozen and there is an increasingly hostile attitude toward Western missionaries in general.

We think the missionaries are showing good sense but, at the same time, we doubt that there is an area in the world more in need of the principles that the missionaries represent.

Note and Comment

When the average factory worker in the United States eats his breakfast before his eight-hour shift it will take him only 9 minutes and 45 seconds to pay for it—2 slices of toast, 2 slices of bacon, a potato, 2 eggs and a glass of milk. His father in 1914 had to spend 32 minutes and 48 seconds at the factory to secure the same hearty meal.

While figures for Canada are not available, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture points out that this statement applies equally in Canada as in the United States.

Ronald Levang of the Edberg district narrowly escaped serious injury last week when the tractor he was driving overturned, coming to rest with all four wheels in the air. He managed to jump to safety and received only minor bruises.

Many farmers, however, are not so fortunate, and during the last two weeks of July at least four deaths occurred in tractor accidents in Alberta.

A Soldier Returns To Re-Married Wife

By T. W. PUE

Out of the 1941-45 war with Japan, comes a delayed-action human bomb. A last-ditch hold-out Japanese soldier came back from the dead.

In the farming village of Hatakeyama, where he was born and raised, Shinichi Kodaka, soldier of Japan, was, until recently, dead. His "ashes," shipped home from a battlefield in the remote Marianas, had been interred in the family burial plot; his dutiful wife, Mume, who had borne him four children, had given herself, according to custom and tradition, to Shinichi's younger brother, Shiroshi. The war had been over nearly six years and Mume and the children—there was now a fifth child—had left the small family farm to live in town, where Shiroshi was employed as a rubber boot salesman.

T. W. PUE

Then Shinichi, now 40, came home from the war.

There was nothing supernatural about his return from the grave. The sturdy, bespectacled veteran just happened to be one of 19 Jap. warriors who held out until last June 30 on the Island of Anatahan, in the Marianas, refusing to believe the war was over. The Navy finally persuaded them to give up by dropping letters and snapshots from relatives in Japan, setting forth the facts.

Nor was Shinichi the only Enoch Arden in the lot. Four others discovered that their wives had remarried in their absence. But Shinichi was the only one who found his wife had submitted to tradition and married her brother-in-law.

Twenty-nine-year-old Shiroshi, after a bout with his conscience, decided to give up his (or Shinichi's—legally the point hasn't been settled) 39-year-old wife. For one thing, four of the children were Shinichi's. And then, Shiroshi explained, "My brother deserves a new chance after all those years on the island."

This was all right by Shinichi. He agreed to adopt as his own the nephew Mume had borne.

Now Shiroshi, freed of family cares, is discovering what he missed all those years when he had a wife and children. From all over Japan he has been getting letters like this one from a young girl.

"The moment I saw you in the newsreel you became my dearest man. I must devote my whole life to you."

At the moment, he's in no hurry to get married again. Sometime, Shiroshi says, he'll choose—"the best letter in the pile."

Nobody asked Mume, who dutifully followed Shinichi back to the farm, how she felt about it all. But the agony column of a Tokyo newspaper, where, even in Japan, love transcends family considerations, has heard from her. Plaintively, Mume wrote:

"I have been sorriest of all for the way things turned out."

William Randolph Hearst

(From Calgary Albertan)

William Randolph Hearst, in influence, wealth and scope of operations, was probably the No. 1 newspaper publisher in the world. By material standards he was probably the most successful. But he wasn't the best.

His vast newspaper properties were indeed an empire, and he was the emperor in much more than name. His slightest whims, right up to the time of his death, were immediately translated into fanatical crusades from one end of the United States to the other. There was no independence in his chain. Each paper was his personal tool.

Hearst was a keen disciple of "yellow journalism," and his mastery of it contributed to his success. He pandered to the tastes of the least intelligent and most unstable and unreasonable of his readers. It is a reflection on the public, more than on him, that there should have been such overwhelming response.

Nevertheless he was a good craftsman, if establishing, reorganizing and promoting newspapers can be called a craft. Apart from some of his outlandish editorial notions and his "yellow" publishing tactics, he helped to improve the pace if not the standard of journalism in his country. There was no sloppy or indifferent news-gathering on his papers. He provided his readers with more news than they could find in most other papers, and that, it should be admitted, may have accounted for his success more than anything else.

BUSYBODIES

Dear Sir—Surely Uncle Sam has enough dirty linen of his own to wash, without trying to do Canada's also. Minding one's own business is something the U.S. need badly to learn, and their diplomacy is somewhat amateurish.

Senator McCarthy and his like are personal non gratae with all free thinking people, and the Senate of our neighbors should be told bluntly to mind their own damn business.

WAR PENSIONS

Dear Sir—The cost-of-living index is now 187, but the recipients of pensions and War Veterans' Allowance are still on the same basis rate without any increase in either pensions or allowances.

A single man getting a War Veterans Allowance receives a basic of $40.43, and a married man gets a basic of $70.83 a month.

Nothing can justify the lack of government action in respect to the class of people who are now suffering and for whom no steps have been taken to keep their living conditions on a level of what they were even in 1945.

Dear Sir—Talking about divorce in parliament, which was mentioned recently in a column in your paper by T. W. Pue.

What does God say about it? Get out your King James bible and turn to Romans 1-2-3 for "the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband as long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband, but if her husband liveth, and she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress."

BANK CLOSING

Dear Sir—I don't agree with your editorial saying banks should close on Saturdays, and stay open only five days a week.

As a matter of fact, banks should be open more hours than they are.

There are a lot of robberies caused by the fact that storekeepers have to leave their money in their shops because the banks aren't open to accept deposits. At least one bank in Edmonton should be open 24-hours a day.

UNREASONABLE QUESTION

Dear Sir—Applicants for the old age pension will be disturbed by two questions, one of which asks their residence for the past 2 years, and the other requiring residence of the previous period of the lives, and the next question asks a confirmation from persons who are familiar with the facts of the two previous questions.

These questions are absurd, particularly the one asking for confirmation of evidence regarding the pension applicant's previous residence. Who would be familiar with all the previous addresses of a man 70 years old?

Perhaps these questions are calculated to create obstacles to the realization of the pension.

LIQUOR TO MINORS

Dear Sir—They are getting after the dope peddlers, so why not go after those who sell liquor to teen-agers?

It's about time that something should be done about teen-age drinking.

Alberta Man Sees Sister, 73, For First Time in Life

CALGARY, Alta.—(BUP)—Mrs. Annie Braithwaite, of Spanish Port, Utah, saw her brother here recently for the first time.

Mrs. Braithwaite is 73, her brother, Henry Hansen, 60. "People find it hard to believe when I tell them," Hansen said, "and I guess I can't blame them. But when Annie drove up to our house the other day it was the first time in my life I had seen her and the first time she had ever seen me."

A long story lay behind the unusual separation of the family. Mrs. Braithwaite moved from Nebraska to Utah with her pioneering Danish grandparents before her brother was born.

She married in the western state and stayed there while the rest of her family and her grandparents, who tired of Utah, moved to Alberta.

Her parents homesteaded at Blackfalds, Alta., in 1900.

"I was just a youngsters of nine then," Hansen said "and I had never seen Annie. Somehow, we were never able to go to Utah to see her. Nor was she able to come to Alberta to see us."

He said that he thought his sister would be back for another visit now that the ice was finally broken.

"It's kind of nice meeting relatives you've never even seen," Hansen grinned.

RAT INVASION FOUGHT HERE

Residents along 250 miles of the Alberta border are preparing war on those rats from Saskatchewan.

Rats have been reported pouring into rodent-free Alberta between the border towns of Alaskan and Empress. The provincial agriculture department announced Thursday a campaign from the United States border to Provoost—some 250 miles—to keep the pests out.

William Lobay, department supervisor of pest control, is in charge. He said the first step will be meetings to organize volunteers and demonstrate control measures.

Mr. Lobay said the attack will try to prevent the rats from establishing winter colonies in Alberta. At present the rats are foraging in fields.

Bears With White Spots Roam Park

Federal travel bureau officials say that bears with white spots on their sterns are roaming Alberta's Waterton Lakes National Park.

However, they are not a new breed of bear. The white spot is ordinary paint.

Officials say the bears are marked before being transported from the park townsite to more remote sections of the 204-square mile park. If they return to the townsite area in search of tidbits, they can easily be identified. "It's just a method of keeping track of movements of animals in the park," officials said.

Many busy little beavers are putting themselves out of business in Alberta by providing a new prop to the economy of the province's hard-working farmers.

Government authorities said that a year-old provincial beaver trapping program would put an estimated $370,000 into the pockets of some 498 farmers this year. The estimated catch was 18,450 beaver, about three times the number taken last year by registered trappers.

PELTS WORTH $35

The first year, 1950, saw 472 permits issued with 2,073 beaver taken by the farmers from their land. The best pelts bring up to $35.

Ten years ago beaver were found only in isolated parts of Alberta. Strict controls were introduced to halt poaching, and a closed season was enforced on all trappers.

Slowly, the beaver population began to increase and move into settlers' areas.

The next thing the government knew it was being swamped with farmers' complaints about how the beaver dams were flooding their hay meadows, crops, roads and bridges.

One beaver caused more than $10,000 damage when it burrowed through the main irrigation ditch in the Lethbridge district.

Beaver can be live-trapped during the early spring, but most are taken between Aug. 1 and TRAPPED by raging forest fire, Arthur Marsh, left, and Eric McCuaig tell their wives how they fought way to safety to their Willowdale, Ont., homes.

Caught in the path of a fire, the two men, surveyors for the Ontario department of highways, spent a night in a small lake to avoid being burned.

Prudham Asked to Call Discussion on Defence Roads

New developments in northern defence planning are expected following the meeting of the joint defence board of Canada and the United States here.

Scheduled for the near future is a civilian defence meeting to discuss the condition of highways in northern Alberta in the light of defence requirements.

Mayor Sidney Parsons has asked Hon. George Prudham, Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys, to call a meeting of district MP's to discuss "the necessity for adequate defence highways" in northern Alberta.

Eleven military and government officials gathered here this week at the joint defence board meeting.

Headed by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, unspecified military matters were discussed at meet.

Several field trips were made by the group, and Gen. McNaughton said that the board is "actively concerned" with the northern radar network.

The joint board, established in 1940, last met in Edmonton in 1949.

Commenting on road conditions as a matter vital in defence, Mayor Parsons said recently that "if Edmonton ever becomes a combat area highways will be needed to move civilians out and bring the army in."

Mr. Parsons called for the meeting of district MP's following a gathering of the Trans-Canada Highway Association, Yellowhead route.

Present at the meeting was A.

Fred Macdonald, MP for Edmonton East.

Following any meeting of MP's called by Mr. Prudham another meeting of the highway association will be held, Mr. Parsons said.

The joint defence board spent three days here and then moved on to "other places."

Gen. McNaughton asked reporters not to "cross-examine" him about places to be visited during the board's five-day north-west tour because the answers might give "comfort to the enemy."

"The board has always gone to the locale to be discussed," Gen. McNaughton said.

Varsity Course Corrects Posture

WINNIPEG, Man.—(BUP)—There will be a lot of round shoulders, flat feet and hollow chests corrected during the 1951 semester at the University of Manitoba.

Recreation instructors at the university planned to inaugurate a compulsory course this year to teach students the efficiency of movement, rhythm, and give them an interest in a variety of recreational sports.

Missionaries Get Heckling in Quebec

ROUYN, Que.—(BUP)—One Baptist missionary was punched in the nose and others heckled continually in a little Quebec town last night. At first the crowds of 200—in the town of Lassare, Quebec, some 30 miles north of Rouyn listened attentively but some grew noisy. Those standing around heckled the eight Baptists while others in cars honked their horns continually. However, the Baptists felt that was not too bad as a week ago when police tried to break up the meeting and several of the missionaries were beat up.

TOP CLIP JOINT PRIDES ITSELF

REGINA — (BUP) — There's one place in Regina that prides itself no matter what its slogan may indicate. A sign outside a barber-shop here reads: "This is the best clip joint in town."

The tip of the tongue is the most delicate organ of touch.

You don't have to know magic to save money! And no wonder. It's so simple! Whether you buy your meat from us, or have us process your hogs, cattle or poultry, or just rent a frozen food locker from us.

U. S. Party Chiefs May Be In Canada

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police have joined the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation in a widespread man-hunt to flush out eight fugitive Communist leaders whom police believe may be hiding in Canada.

The Red leaders, wanted in the U.S. for teaching violent overthrow of the government, disappeared last June and July.

The wanted men are:
 GUS HALL, 40, National Secretary of the U.S. Communist Party;

HENRY WINSTON, 40, Organizational Secretary of the U.S. Communist Party;

GILBERT GREEN, 44, Chairman of the Illinois Community Party;

ROBERT G. THOMPSON, 36, member of the National Board of the U.S. Communist Party;

FRED M. FINE, 37, Secretary of the Public Affairs Commission of the U.S. Communist Party;

WILLIAM N. MARRON, 49, Executive Secretary of the New York Communist Party;

SIDNEY STEINBERG, 36, Assistant National Labor Secretary of the U.S. Communist Party, and

JAMES E. JACKSON, Jr., 36, Southern Regional Director of the U.S. Communist Party.

Hall, Winston, Green and Thompson were convicted for violation of the Smith Act July 3, and are fugitives as a result of their forfeiture of their bond.

Fine, Marron, Steinberg and Jackson were indicted by a New York grand jury June 20 for violation of the Smith Act and are fugitives as a result of their action in evading arrest.

The FBI called in the Mounties in the belief that some of the eight fugitives may have fled to Canada.

In a long-distance interview with The Edmonton Sun, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, said that "anyone having information on the whereabouts of the eight Communist leaders should contact their nearest law enforcement agency."

It is possible, he said, that the fugitive Reds might be in hiding anywhere in the United States or Canada.

Gus Hall is described as 5' 11" in height, weight 22 pounds, blue-gray eyes, light brown hair, fair complexion.

Hall has spent nearly his entire lifetime in Communist Party activity, and had previously been arrested for rioting, possession of explosives, and violation of the U.S. Election Law.

Henry Winston, a Negro, is 5' 11" in height, weight 200 pounds, brown eyes, black and kinky hair.

A long-time Communist Party worker, he visited Russia in 1933 and 1937, has been active as a Communist journalist.

Hall and Winston both lived in New York City prior to their disappearance.

Gilbert Green, 5' 6" in height, weight 150 pounds, has hazel eyes and black curly hair.

Green has been a Communist since 1906, and visited Russia several times.

His occupations are described as writer, lecturer, electrician, and machine shop employee.

Green formerly lived in Chicago.

Robert Thompson, formerly of New York City, is 5' 9" in height, weight 170 pounds, dark brown eyes, brown hair.

A Communist since 1933, Thompson lived several years in Russia during the 1930's.

Formerly a columnist for the New York Daily Worker, Thompson's characteristics describes him as a slow speaker, and that he usually carries a brief case.

Fred Fine, 5' 5" in height, weight 139 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes. His occupations include typist, bookkeeper, clothing house clerk and steel mill worker.

Formerly of New York, his description includes a "large mouth, heavy features, and prominent Adam's apple."

William Marron, 5' 6" in height, weight 162 pounds, has black hair and blue eyes.

Formerly a resident of New York, he joined the Communist Party in 1932.

Born in Russia, he entered the United States as a child, and for a time was a professional basketball player.

Sidney Steinberg, 5' 6" in height, weight 157 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes. He also lived in New York.

His occupations include that of writer and butcher. Born in Lithuania, he has used the name of Sid Stein in connection with his Communist Party work.

James Jackson, the second Negro of the group, is 5' 6" in height, weight 160 pounds, with black hair and brown eyes.

Formerly a resident of Brooklyn, Jackson was raised in Virginia and has been one of the chief Communist organizers in the South.

His occupations include drug-gist, labor organizer, writer and lecturer.

He joined the Communist Party in 1933, and in 1939 and 1940 was a field worker for the Carnegie Foundation and travelled extensively throughout the South and Southwest gathering material for the Carnegie study "The Negro in America."

SETTLERS STRIKE IT RICH

VAL D'OR, Que.—(BUP)—Quebec government colonization officials wondered whether they were sponsoring colonization or mining in Baraute township, 23 miles northwest of here.

The undersoil of the township is so rich in zinc ore that all you have to do is to dig about 12 to 15 feet and you've struck it comparatively rich.

"We have also had to move some families to other farming districts in view of mining development," a colonization spokesman said.

Some settlers have even sold their rights to their property for as much as $25,000. Naturally in such cases the department does not pay for their moving to another piece of land."

DESPITE Korean peace talks, the HMCS Athabaskan has sailed from the west coast heading for the Far East for a second time. Among the first three ships to join the UN forces, she will join the destroyers Cayuga and Sioux at present on duty there. Most of the crew—some of which are seen above—are veterans of the first trip to the battle area.

SPECIAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE FITS WORKERS TO JOBS

Jobs that fit the worker, and workers that fit the jobs is the goal of the Special Placement Counselling Service of the National Employment Service.

Hundreds of young people who are entering industrial life for the first time are being assisted in finding jobs most suited to their abilities.

And handicapped persons, ex-prison inmates, and others are being assisted by the service.

"It's not just a matter of finding a person a job," says J. I. Grodeland, director of the Special Placement department.

"It's more a matter of finding what job a person is most suited to, and then locating employment where he can take advantage of his abilities."

Many hours are spent in interviews with applicants to determine their capacities.

"We're particularly interested in placing young people in positions that have a future," Mr. Grodeland said.

"Unfortunately, few school graduates have any idea of their employment capabilities or of the opportunities in the various fields they may be interested in," he added.

Often a period of apprenticeship is needed before young people are ready to take jobs in the work of their choice.

The placement service works in close cooperation with welfare associations which are often called upon to provide special assistance while job opportunities are being explored.

Therefore, placement in a job is not always the immediate objective, as this may be preceded by further education or vocational training.

The service has been very successful in locating jobs for physically handicapped persons.

Jobs must be found for the handicapped where they can perform as effectively as if they had no handicap.

Thus, every effort is made to capitalize on what a person has left to make up for what he has lost.

"There's something every handicapped person can master," Mr. Grodeland said.

Success in placing the handicapped always depends on co-operation from employers, in offering positions to fit people with handicaps.

Last year jobs were found for over 500 handicapped persons, and it is expected more will be found this year.

The service also places around an average of 150 young people a month in their first jobs.

Total placements by the National Employment Service here totalled 30,000 in 1950, and will exceed that figure this year.

In addition, the placement service finds jobs for ex-prison inmates, and has so far met with great success in this field.

The Lighter Side

Chivalry Not Dead

Gertie: "I heard your new boy friend is very polite."
Bertie: "Oh, yes. He has excellent manners. Every time I drop something, he kicks it over to where I can pick it up more easily."

Take Me

One of John's best friends had died, so he called on the widow to express his sympathy.
"Jim and I were friends," he said. "Isn't there something I could have as a memento of him?"
She raised her velvety brown eyes, which a few seconds before had been wet with tears. "How would I do?" she asked.

Unremitting Kindness

The son in college was applying pressure for more money from home. "I cannot understand why you call yourself a kind father," he wrote dad, "when you haven't sent me a cheque for three weeks." What kind of kindness do you call that?"

"That's unremitting kindness," wrote the father in his next letter.

body knew whether the house was on the American side or the Canadian side. A committee was set up to investigate the situation. The decision was that the house was in the United States.

"Wonderful!" explained the owner. "Now I won't have to suffer those terrible Canadian winters."

Mutual Proposition

Young Jones seemed inordinately proud of his new car. One day his next door neighbor passed to compliment him upon its immaculate appearance. "Jones," the neighbor remarked, "you certainly keep your car clean."

The proud owner grinned sheepishly, and rejoined: "Heck, it's mutual—it keeps me clean, too."

Silly Man

The woman motorist was trying to navigate a traffic jam. She rammed the car in front of her, then tried to back and knocked down a pedestrian. Then she smacked into hydrant. A policeman came up.

"Okay, lady, let's see your license," he demanded.

"Don't be silly," she grunted, "who'd give me a license?"

LETTER TO LOUISA

Wife Shouldn't Work When Home Life Ignored

Dear Louisa: My husband and I are both working and have been ever since our marriage with the exception of a few years when our little son was born and after.

We have accumulated a nice little bit of property and have a savings account. We have an educational insurance account for our boy's education.

I am getting tired of working so hard because I do not feel that it is necessary. I think I should have someone to do some of the housework if I keep on with my job outside but my husband does not agree with me. He says he works after he gets off from his regular job and I should be willing to do so, also.

But what is life for if I work from morning until night and then fill up my evenings with cleaning and canning and sewing?

Don't you think this thing of saving every penny can be carried too far?

TIRED WIFE.

Answer: All work and no play makes Jack not only a dull boy but shortens his life.

No one appreciates the need of laying up something for a rainy day more than I do but there are some people who get in the habit of pinching pennies when it is necessary and, when easier times arrive, they keep on doing so. It actually becomes a disease with them and they put enlarging that bank account ahead of everything else in the world.

Their wives and families have to do without help, recreation and fun until they get too old and worn out to enjoy a good time or a nice trip.

They die and their heirs usually spend what they have accumulated with abandon.

Why cannot men and women strike a happy medium when it comes to work and play? Put aside something for your old age but have some pleasure as you go through life.

In your case, you should certainly have some help at home if you are working outside.

Instead of spending every evening at home, dress up and make your husband take you out at least once a week. It will do you both good.

LOUISA.

LEGION HOLDS EXECUTIVE RALLY

ROCKYFORD—District 5, Zone 4, of the Canadian Legion to the BESL, held an executive rally at the Memorial hall, Strathmore, Sunday, Aug. 26. Members of the zone branches from Brooks, Bassano, Armada, Milo, Queenstown, Gleichen, Standard, Rockyford and Strathmore were present, with our district commander, Mr. D. W. Morgan, Calgary No. 1 branch as honored guest.

The meeting was opened with the trooping of the colors. Comrade Tom Klidea, president of the Strathmore branch acting as chairman. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read the chairman turned the meeting over to the zone commander, Comrade A. J. Geeraert who brought forward the general business of the meeting.

The main topics forwarded were an increase of popples and wreath sales to benefit ex-service men. A definite membership drive forwarding literature to all ex-service men on pros and cons why they should belong to the Canadian Legion. Inter-zone relations for higher standard of relations in zones.

A point was brought forward to ask the press throughout the province to give special notice to Legion affairs.

We also talked of the possibilities of the zone sending cigarettes to personnel serving overseas from the zone.

Mr. D. W. Morgan gave an interesting talk on what the Canadian Legion is doing to have the federal government do for our disabled veterans from the past wars.

After the meeting, the Strathmore branch No. 13, served a very enjoyable lunch.

The next zone rally will be held in Brooks, November 5, with the MLA from the provincial government and the member of parliament from the federal government present.

Ceiling Collapses During Rain Storm

BEISEKER — Darce and Billy Olsen are anxious to get in touch with anyone wishing to take on a job of plastering. After a rain storm last week, during the night, they heard a terrific noise in the kitchen. Thinking it was burglars Darce sent Billy out to investigate and discovered the ceiling in the breakfast room had collapsed. So anyone wishing to help them repair the damage, they would appreciate hearing from them.

Carbon Junior Wheat Club Conducts Tour

LEVEL LAND — The Carbon Junior Wheat Club held its annual tour of plots on Wednesday, Aug. 22. The Carbon plots are exceptionally good this year. Judging was done by all the members to test their judging skill. Mr. Bell of the Alberta Wheat Pool was the official judge and commented on each plot. Mr. Ed Foster, agent of the Alberta Wheat Pool, Carbon, and Mr. John Leiske, both members of the advisory committee, were present.

When 1 o'clock came round, and the members were hungry, a tasty lunch was served by Mrs. John Leiske on their lawn.

Vancouver Papers Protest News Ban

VANCOUVER, B.C. — (BUP) — Three Vancouver newspapers have made strong representations to the police commission, protesting the recent suppression of news by the police department.

The papers are challenging the police ruling that reporters are to be denied access to books detailing information on persons charged with crimes. In addition, reporters are denied access to general office reports, from which many minor items of human interest were previously written.

ST. LAURENT WON'T QUIT

OTTAWA — (BUP) — Reports that Prime Minister St. Laurent might retire on his 70th birthday next February 1 are just rumors, according to informed sources here.

The Prime Minister's associates said this week that he isn't thinking of retiring or announcing any plans of retirement.

It was reported last week that Mr. St. Laurent would be happy to retire and that members of his family are trying to persuade him to resign the prime ministership and the leadership of the Liberal Party.

The report said that pressure has come, however, from some groups of the Liberal leadership for him to stay in office until after another general election, possibly in 1953.

Retirement of Mr. St. Laurent would ignite an explosive contest for the Liberal leadership, one in which it would be much harder to call the winner than in the last one.

It would be difficult to predict whom a convention might choose from among candidates such as Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson, National Health Minister Paul Martin, and Citizenship Minister Walter Harris.
